BASKETBALL.

Home Team Loses Game to Holy Cross. Score 24-14.

Technology lost to Holy Cross last night in a fast and interesting game. Holy Cross played consistently, excelling in throwing baskets from the field, partly because the home team did not cover well. At the end of the first half the score stood 17-4 in favor of Holy Cross. In the second half honors were about even. Deavitt took Mathieson's place and Mathieson went into Wentworth's place. The Technology Team braced up considerably, their throwing being much more accurate and team work more consistent. Lynch excelled for Holy Cross and Burleigh's work for Technology was exceptional.

The game between the second team and Melrose High was cancelled.

The line-up:

HOLY CROSS.	TECH.
Connor, l.f.	l.f., Kinnear
Stevens, r.f.	r.f., Mathieson, Deavitt
Casey, c.	c., Burleigh
Hogerty, l.b.	l.b., Wentworth, Mathieson
Lynch, r.b.	r.b., Lamont

Score — Holy Cross 24, Tech 14. Goals from floor — Kinnear, Burleigh, Mathieson, Stevens 2, Connor 3, Casey 1, Lynch 4, Hogerty 1. Goals on fouls — Burleigh 8, Stevens 2. Fouls called on Burleigh 2, Lamont 3, Wentworth 2, Mathieson, Stevens, Connor 3, Casey 4, Lynch, Hogerty. Fouls missed — Burleigh 2, Stevens 5. Referee — Blake. Umpire — O'Brien. Time — 20-minute halves.

THE INHERITANCE OF PROPERTY.

In an address before the labor Lyceum of Schenectady, John L. March, professor of modern languages at Union College, said that a man's estate should pass at his death into the control of the State and be sold immediately after for the benefit of the widow, leaving the children unprovided for, thereby giving the country the minds of many rich men's sons, who because they inherit wealth do not apply themselves to business. Professor March's address was on "The Inheritance of Property." He spoke of the Astors, Vanderbilts, Rockefellers and other rich families to prove that if rich men's sons were put under the lash of necessity the world would be benefitted.

BOWDOIN GETS $50,000.

ENGLISH ACCEPT CHESS CHALLENGE.

A cable dispatch announcing the acceptance by Oxford and Cambridge of the challenge issued two weeks ago by the Tricollege Chess League for a match by cable was received by the Chess Club of the University of Pennsylvania Jan. 16. The match will be for the possession of the Isaac L. Rice International Trophy with a representative sextet selected from the players of Brown, Cornell and Pennsylvania.

Arrangements have been made by the colleges whereby the use of a cable can be had on two successive Saturdays, March 24 and 31, and the challenge was issued with this provision. Early in March the league committee will make its selection of the six players who will play against the Englishmen.

COMMUNICATION.

The Editors do not hold themselves responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE TECH:

Dear Sirs, I wish to give a comparative statement of the support the classes are giving to the Junior Prom this year. The 110 names subscribed are distributed as follows: 89 Juniors, 12 Seniors and 9 Sophomores. The 204 men who attended last year were classed as follows: 103 Juniors, 56 Seniors, 38 Sophomores and 7 Freshmen.

From a most casual glance at the above it is apparent that the Senior and Sophomore Classes are not giving the Prom the support it deserves. For this is one of the things at Tech that compares most favorably with that of any of the colleges. '06 is in duty bound to support the Prom this year, for only with the aid of '05 could they have set the standard of Tech's Prom as high as it is now. The Senior Class is now the largest in school and the example they set for the lower classes of selfish indifference is enough to bring to life the almost forgotten expression of "A Tech man's lack of interest."

The extreme caution with which the Sophomores sign up can only be assigned to bashfulness. It is very important that we know how many guests to expect within a week as the contracts will be let by that time. The great improvement made in the Prom last year over that of the year before was but the expression of a desire on the part of the student body for one big social affair in the year. It would be hard to promise many improvements over last year's Prom, but this we know, that this year's Prom will be at least as good, but only with as good support.

JOHN H. LEAVELL,
Chairman of Junior Prom Com.

The 620th regular meeting of the Society will be held in 22 Walker, on Thursday evening, March 8, at eight o'clock. Mr. Henry G. Kittredge, editor of the Textile American, will address the Society on the subject of "Shoddy: the History of a Woolen Rag." The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. Members are requested to invite friends interested in the subject.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Another and strenuous effort is to be made to popularize boating at Yale, and make it more in the nature of a recreative sport. There is to be a separate coach for scrub crews. Yale organizations of every kind are to be urged to form such crews, the number of regatta events is to be increased, and the resources of the Yale boathouse placed, more fully than heretofore, at the disposal of "scrub" oarsmen.

When Mme. Sarah Bernhardt returns to France she will express her appreciation of courtesies extended to her by students of American colleges by obtaining for them several scholarships in French schools. The exact form of the endowment has not been announced, but one of Mme. Bernhardt's representatives said the fund would be substantial. It is likely that permanent scholarships will be established in one or two of the highest institutions of learning in Paris. It is also probable that several scholarships of the Dramatic school to be instituted in connection with the theatre by Mme Bernhardt in Paris will be placed at the disposal of American men and women.
